

THE 6TH ARTHUR N. RUPE GREAT DEBATE

RABBI MICHAEL LERNER & MICHAEL NOVAK

RELIGION IN AMERICAN POLITICS –
TOO MUCH OR TOO LITTLE?

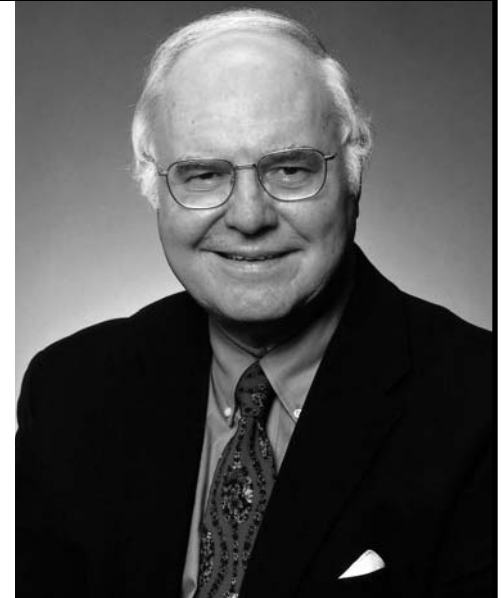

“Michael Lerner ... gives eloquent voice to our yearning for a union of the spiritual and the rational in the quest for peace and justice.” Howard Zinn

Author of the best-selling book The Left Hand of God – Taking Back Our Country from the Religious Right, Rabbi Lerner is an outspoken advocate of religious pluralism and the founder of The Network of Spiritual Progressives. He is the editor of Tikkun magazine, a bimonthly critique of American and Israeli politics.

Two-time U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Human Rights Commission, Novak is currently the director of Social & Political Studies at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research. The author of 25 influential books, including the recently released Washington's God, he is the recipient of the prestigious Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion.

Presented by the Deans of the College of Letters & Science, UCSB Arts & Lectures, the Interdisciplinary Humanities Center, the Department of Religious Studies and made possible by an endowment from the Arthur N. Rupe Foundation.

“Michael Novak [is] the preeminent Roman Catholic social theorist of our time ...”
