There's a big difference between Walter Capps and Andrea Seastrand
on the issues...

A big difference on education...

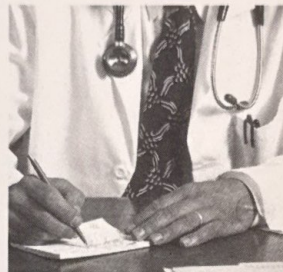

ANDREA SEASTRAND has consistently voted with Newt Gingrich—96% of the time—against education. Seastrand voted to cut student loans...to abolish the U.S. Department of Education...and to eliminate most federal funding for our local schools.

WALTER CAPPS is a teacher who believes that we owe it to our children to invest in education, not cut it back. In Congress, he'll fight to expand access to college, improve the quality of schools, and involve technology and business in the important effort of preparing today's children for careers in the 21st Century.

A big difference on health care...

ANDREA SEASTRAND has voted against maintaining federal health care protection for children...against additional health care funds for veterans...and for a $270 billion Medicare cut that the American Nurses Association said "will have a profound and negative impact on the availability and quality of health care."

WALTER CAPPS is committed to making health insurance more affordable for middle class families. He'll fight to keep sensible health care safeguards designed to protect our kids. And he'll stand up to the extreme agenda of Newt Gingrich and oppose harmful cuts to Medicare that will make seniors' premium costs even higher.

A big difference on choice...

ANDREA SEASTRAND takes an extreme position against reproductive choice—opposing choice in all circumstances, even for victims of rape or incest or when the life of a woman is endangered.

WALTER CAPPS believes that a woman—in consultation with her doctor, her family, and her conscience—should decide whether or not to have an abortion, not the government. And he will fight any attempts by radical right extremists in Congress to restrict a woman's right to choose.

Walter Capps for Congress. Independent. In touch. In the mainstream.

Walter Capps believes too many in Washington have lost touch with what matters to families on the Central Coast. A neighbor, teacher and community leader, Walter Capps raised his family here and shares our values. He's a fiscal conservative who believes we can balance the budget without slashing Medicare and education. In Congress, Walter Capps will be our citizen representative whose only loyalty is to the people of the Central Coast.
