Theology of 'I'm Arousing Interest'

By JOHN DAVID

The interest of both liberal religious who support church membership in social movements and the interest of the church are seen as rising due to new theological issues.

Theology about the role of the church in religious life has been of great interest to many people. The issue of how the church can be a force for social justice and how the church can be a source of spiritual renewal has been a topic of discussion.

Significantly, the new theology has been widely discussed and debated in various religious circles.

The new theology has been widely discussed and debated in various religious circles.

World of Religion

Bishop Has Idea

To Aid the Needy

By LUCY CARROLL

Local Episcopal diocese in Oregon has been given credit with helping feed the hungry. Bishop Jack C. Howey, 44, of the Episcopal Church in Oregon, has been praised for his efforts to address the issue of hunger.

How has the bishop been working to address hunger?

By helping establish food banks in his diocese, Howey has been able to provide meals for those in need.

In addition, he has worked to establish programs that provide resources and support to those affected by hunger.

The bishop's efforts have been recognized by local and national organizations.

Church Events

Episcopal Church Events

BISHOP HOWE

Howey has been working to address hunger in his diocese through various initiatives.

For example, he has worked to establish food banks and other programs that provide meals and resources to those in need.

Additionally, he has been involved in efforts to raise awareness about the issue of hunger and to encourage others to take action.

Howey's work has been praised by many, including those within the Episcopal Church.

The bishop has been recognized for his efforts, and his actions have been credited with helping to improve the lives of many in his diocese.

In conclusion, Bishop Jack C. Howey's work has been an important contribution to the efforts to address hunger in his diocese.

He has been praised for his dedication to helping those in need and for his efforts to raise awareness about the issue of hunger.

His continued work in this area is essential to addressing the issue of hunger and improving the lives of those affected by it.

Vote on 9 Denominations

Joining Predicted by 1975

ORANGE, Colo. (AP) — A church council meeting in Orange today predicted that nine denominations will join to form a new council by 1975.

The meeting was held to discuss the possibility of forming a new council for the purpose of addressing the issues facing various denominations.

The meeting was attended by representatives from the Orange, Denver, and Colorado Springs areas.

The council was formed in an effort to address the issues facing the denominations and to create a more unified approach to addressing these issues.

The council is expected to be active in the coming years, and its efforts are anticipated to have a significant impact on the religious landscape.